How else could I use Live Music in Schools?

We can enrich the musical experience of your pupils in many ways. Why not use one of our ensembles for:

- your Arts Activities Week
- part of your Wider Opportunities initiative
- an extension of GCSE or A Level provision
- to promote instrumental teaching in your school

A follow up visit by an instrumental teacher & Area Head for a specific taster session can be arranged to happen shortly after the ensemble's visit.

What ensembles are available?

Hertfordshire String Appeal

A quartet made up of 2 violins, viola and cello. They play all sorts of music from Mozart to the Macarena. As well as their KS1 & 2 work, this ensemble has considerable experience working with GCSE & A level students on their compositions for strings.

Hertfordshire Woodwind Quartet

This quartet combines flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon; saxophone is also demonstrated. An Introduction to this family of instruments is delivered through a combination of participatory activities, demonstrations and fun.

Hertfordshire Brass Quintet

This quintet consists of two trumpets, a French horn, a trombone and tuba. They show how all brass instruments make their distinctive sound using, amongst other things - hosepipes.

Hertfordshire Samba Workshop

A teacher arrives at your school with thirty assorted samba instruments and work with two groups of 30 children producing their very own sambas. Ideal for Year 5 right up to secondary level.

Hertfordshire Djembe Workshop (Only Wednesday mornings)

Djembes are African Drums. A teacher will arrive at your school with 30 djembes and work with 2 groups of up to 30 children to create authentic African Music. These workshops are designed for Year 5 to secondary level.

Hertfordshire Jazz Quartet

Saxophone, Piano, Bass, and Drums will lead and inspire your pupils towards discovering their creative talents. Workshops will emphasise pathways into improvisation. Recital programmes will include a wide variety of rhythmic music. These workshops/recitals are designed for Year 5 to secondary level.

Hertfordshire Percussion Workshop

The morning will start with a short demonstration to the whole school, of a variety of percussion instruments being played together, using volunteers from the audience. This is followed by 2 workshops for 15 students each, which will involve an introduction to the instruments and their role within the orchestra. These workshops/recitals are designed for Year 5 to secondary level.
